

November 15, 2006

Contact:

Bob King

(303) 748-5619

Bob.King@Rasmussen.edu

RASMUSSEN COLLEGE'S ST. CLOUD CAMPUS A DROP SITE FOR DONATIONS FOR THE SALVATION ARMY FOOD SHELF

St. Cloud, MN- Rasmussen College is proud to announce that it is participating in the Salvation Army food shelf collection as a drop site for donations.

Members of the community are encouraged to drop off nonperishable food items and/or personal care items at the front office of Rasmussen College's St. Cloud campus. Food drive collections can be dropped off any time between now and December 8th.

"We take great pride in being a part of the St. Cloud community and are always happy to extend a helping hand whenever possible," said Chris Zack, St. Cloud Campus Director. "The Salvation Army food shelf is a great cause and I hope that Rasmussen's participation in their food drive will contribute to a successful campaign for our community."

Rasmussen College is also holding its annual Silent Auction event to benefit the Adopt-a-Family program through a local charity. Last year Rasmussen raised $1,200 in proceeds which enabled them to purchase some assorted gifts for a family in need.

This year, Rasmussen is raising funds to help support a family of four and is seeking the community's participation in its silent auction event. The silent auction will occur in the front office from November 13th through the 16th.

ABOUT RASMUSSEN COLLEGE

Rasmussen College is an institution of higher learning dedicated to the growth and development of students, employees, and the communities it serves. Founded in 1900, Rasmussen College is recognized as a leader in innovative curriculum design, instructional delivery, and technology application in education. Rasmussen College operates five campuses in Minnesota (Brooklyn Park, Eagan, Eden Prairie, St. Cloud and Mankato) and a campus in Rockford, IL. The school will be opening an additional Minneapolis campus in January 2007. The school also operates Rasmussen College Online, with a diverse student body from across the country. Rasmussen College offers a bachelor's degree in business management and associate degrees, diplomas and certificates in accounting, allied health, business management, crime management, digital design and advertising, early childhood education, office management, and technology and information management. Additionally, Rasmussen College, Inc. has two campuses in North Dakota (Aakers College) and two campuses in Florida (Webster College). For more information please visit www.rasmussen.edu.